

Lorenzo Mastrogregori is an Italian drummer based in Den Haag. He is originally from Rome where he grew up and started his music studies. He graduated in Jazz at Conservatorio Licinio Refice of Frosinone (IT) in and he's taking a bachelor degree in jazz drums at the Royal Conservatoire of Den Haag, studying with the Eric Ineke and Stefan Kruger. In the meantime, he had the chance to participate in the Metropole Academy project, performing live in the Metropole Orkest studios in Hilversum. He's mainly a jazz drummer but he has roots in the rock tradition and he looks for energy in the music he plays. He enjoys playing different kinds of music such as funk and latin music. In Den Haag he is active leading the MB Big Band and being the drummer of the Federica Lorusso Trio. He is also an educator teaching students and ensembles.

